

The special challenges facing this remodel/addition revolved around preserving the historic beauty of the original 200 year old log home, which is visible through the new foyer that once housed a tiny kitchen.

Authenticity is a way of life!
 "A refrigerator should look like a refrigerator" claims the proud homeowner, and a cabinet... in this case ...should look like it has been there forever!

With careful attention to details and finishes, history thrives here in perfect harmony with current technology and style.

- Special design features: "Antiqued" cabinetry is a multiple step process of stains, distressing and glazing; hardware is oil-rubbed bronze; beams are reclaimed from an old barn and of course, the stonework finishes the look.
- Products used: Cabinetry by Premier Custom-Built; "New Andes" black granite countertops by Marble Source; KitchenAid refrigerator; Viking range; ASKO dishwasher; Kohler faucets.
- Architect: Robert W. Mobley, AIA
- Photography: Woody Cady

Lois Kennedy

Lois Kennedy founded her own firm, Kitchen Design Consultants, in 1990 out of a desire to provide a more specialized service to her clients. Her reputation for thoughtful and creative design concepts, complemented by her thorough execution of details, won her a following of delighted clients.

In addition, her ability to understand the particular concerns of the design community has earned her the respect of the architects and designers who rely on her as a valuable resource. Lois' formal training is in both architecture and interior design, with a degree in Fine Arts from the University of Maryland.
